Disgraceful Condition at the Pest House.

The writer and manager of the CITIZEN was an eye witness to conditions at the pest house last Monday night, that are a disgrace to the community. One of the two diphtheria cases taken there died Monday afternoon, as recorded elsewhere. At twelve o'clock that night the writer was at the pest house and saw the sick man upon his cot, and not more than six feet away, just a little to the right of the sick bed, rested the body of the dead man. The body had been placed in a casket and was awaiting burial in the morning by orders from the board of health.

and unstrung by such a sight. What were the sensations of this poor sick young fellow? No tongue can tell. What can we say of a system that is so wanting in completeness that such conditions are possible? The only persons in the house besides the sick man were the brother of the dead boy and the man hired as cook and nurse. The only persons who had been to the house were the two physicians in attendance and the undertaker.

We are told that besides the kitchen and sick room, there was another room where the casket could have been placed. Who can tell why that poor boy, at least, was not conferred upon the sufferer?

The Board of Health reconsidered their order to have the body of Mr. Williams buried here. The brother started with the remains for Prince Edward Island Wednesday.

WILL VISIT RUMFORD FALLS OFTENER THAN ONCE A MONTH.

Dr. J. Jacques the optician, found upon his last visit here that he would be obliged to be at Rumford Falls oftener than once a month to serve those persons who are desirous of his service and advice. The number of persons who called on him when here last was quite surprising, and shows that his former visit resulted in establishing a reputation for efficient work. He announces in this week's paper the dates for his next visit.

A NEW GAME A GOOD GAME

I wish to announce to the men and women of Rumford Falls and vicinity that I have fitted up the store at ATTEMPTED SUICIDE By Young Miss of Eighteen Years.

Last Friday at about 12:45 a. m., a young girl, giving the name of Mamie Hale, and occupying a room at Mrs. Haley's lodging house on Congress street, Rumford Falls, took a quantity of strychnine with suicidal intent. Mrs. Haley hearing screams from the room rushed up stairs to find the girl in convulsions. She sent for Miss Maud Allen, a room mate of Miss Hale's, and Dr. Stanwood was immediately called. He arrived at one o'clock and at once detecting the cause of the convulsions, administered effective remedies, and by constant care the girl's life was saved.

Miss Hale is a young miss of about eighteen years, and came to the Falls the last of February. She told her landlady that she went to Andover, from Waterville, where she worked one day in a hotel, and then came to the Falls seeking work. She is a comely miss, and no cause for her desiring to die is apparent, unless it may be a tendency to consumption that is manifest.

The girl is spoken of highly by the landlady, and Miss Allen with whom she roomed. The girl says her parents are dead, and that she has been living with an aunt in Waterville.

son for six years, and while, during that time, he has been obliged to render some decisions that he would prefer not to have pronounced, no one has ever said that he failed to do his duty according to the law and evidence, as he was given light to understand.

Judge Johnson possesses an independent mind, and perhaps he has carried his Democratic ideas a little too far for the dignity of the court, but as he says, "justice does not depend upon dignity," and we do not feel called upon to dispute him, and we feel that we express the general public sentiment in saying, his departure from among us is greatly regretted, and we wish him abundant success in his new field of work.

RUMFORD FALLS VS. LIVER- MORE FALLS.

The Rumford bowlers went to Livermore Falls last Saturday night on the special train and played two, three string games with the Livermore team, and won them both. The first game was at no time close, but the second was close and until the last man rolled the game was in doubt, but fortune seemed to be against Livermore.

The evident fact is that the Rumford bowlers are the best in the state, and the team that went to Livermore can undoubtedly win against any team in Maine. The scores follow:

THE NEW JUDGE.

Judge Stearns was delayed in assuming the office of municipal court judge until Monday, March 11th, by reason of his commission as originally sent, being made out to A. E. Stevens instead of A. E. Stearns. Recorder Stephenson looked after the court business in the meanwhile. Monday morning Judge Stearns began his duties by trying two intoxication cases. There were many callers to greet the new judge and wish him success the good cheer of the day. All visitors were

HAD DIPHTHERIA.

Were Trying to Hire Rooms.

Monday morning two young men came in on the train from Ogunquit, and began a search for rooms, saying they were ill. Not finding any they called on a doctor, who soon detected that they had diphtheria. They were sent to the pest house and given proper care. One young man was from Carter's and the other from Cummings' camps. They report other men in the camps as ill with the same symptoms, and Drs. Hutchins and McCarthy notified Dr. Young of the State Board of Health.

At 4:30 p. m., about five hours after having been carried to the pest house, Artemus McWilliams, 19 years old, died. McWilliams lived in Prince County, P. E. I., where his parents, well-to-do farmers, now live. His brother, Eddie, four years older, was with him when he passed away, and was quarantined at the place. The two brothers had been working on the ice. Sunday, March 11th, he fell into the water, but felt no ill effects until Thursday, March 7th.

COLLEEN BAWN MARCH 18.

On Monday evening, March 18, in the Opera House, will be given the popular and much celebrated Irish drama, "Colleen Bawn," written by the famous author Dion Boucicault. The play will be given under the auspices of St. Athanasius church by local talent. For several weeks diligent study and rehearsals have fitted the various players for their parts, and the following cast guarantees a first class presentation.

Nyles Na Coppaleen, James Mullen

NEW JEWELRY STORE.

The firm of Jacques and St. Pierre opened their new jewelry store in the new ward building last week. They have a tastefully fitted up store, and are young men well known in town. Mr. Joseph Jacques was formerly in the employ of Mr. J. E. Stephens, and is a graduate of the Horological College in Philadelphia, and is an expert engraver. Mr. George St. Pierre has been employed in this town for five years, and has established a good reputation. We predict for the firm a large measure of success.

ORANGEMEN TO CELEBRATE.

The Oxford Kings, Loyal Orange Lodge, No. 457, have issued a very handsome program for a public entertainment Saturday, March 16. The event will occur in Odd Fellows Hall at 7:30 p. m. The program provided gives promise of a varied and interesting entertainment. Some of the best local talent, in both instrumental and vocal music have been engaged, and addresses will be delivered by the worthy Master, Carey A. Lackey, and Rev. G. A. Martin. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

Tickets are 25 cents, and can be purchased of the members, or at the door the night of the entertainment.

AMONG THE BOWLERS.

Leroy S. Tucker Wins Oxford County Championship.

Leroy S. Tucker and the "CITIZEN Sight Seer" bowled twenty games for the candle pin championship of Oxford county. The games were rolled off in a series of five games each, one series each week until completed. The contest took place in the Kerr and Douglass alleys, Rumford Falls, the final of the series occurring Wednesday evening, March 6th.

Tucker won the series by a lead of 99 pins. His average for the twenty games was 82, and total score 1840. The "Sight Seer" averaged 87 pins with a total of 1741. The totals for the series:

Tucker,	440	504	423	464
"Sight Seer,"	435	428	453	425

Mr. Tucker in accordance with the provision of this contest challenges any bowler in Oxford county who wishes to contest for the championship. He may be addressed in care of the CITIZEN, Rumford Falls, Me.

TUESDAY AND THURSDAY EVENINGS FOR LADIES.

Tuesday afternoon and evening was given up to ladies and their escorts in Rolfe's box ball alley. Those who were there enjoyed a very pleasant time and a fascinating game. Until further notice Tuesday and Thursday evenings will be ladies' nights. The afternoons will not be devoted specially to the ladies, but they will find the place suitable for them to patronize at any time. Special arrangements can be made for private parties.

CORPORATION MEETING MARCH 26TH.

The corporation meeting occurs the 26th of March, and every voter should attend. It is just as important to the residents of the corporation district as is the town meeting; and is the place to express views upon the conduct of the corporation affairs. Let every voter bear that fact in mind, and unless he attends and takes part in it, he has no cul to find fault if things are done that are not to his liking.

SUNDAY RIVER.

Sunday River has been the scene of a series of accidents during the past two weeks. The victims are now all on the road to convalescence excepting Mr. Clarence White, whose condition was quite serious when last heard from. Mr. Fleet is at work again, and Mr. Baker is at his old post. Mr. Sanborn is said to be better, as also is Mr. Davis.

Mrs. E. E. Wilson fell one day last week and has since been confined to her bed. She is gaining daily.

An amusing incident (or accident) occurred between Orrington York's and the woods Monday, March 4th. A woman (not at all pretty, nor ugly enough to be noticeable) was driving on the road. She had a child with her. Two young men were going down the road. They gallantly turned out to give the woman the whole road, and in doing so neglected to look at their horse. In fact from the time they reined out of the road they never even glanced at the horse; kept staring at the woman. They had a trunk in their sleigh, and while they were still staring the sleigh tipped directly over, and emptied the trunk and the two staring youths into the snow. The horse was neither a Wilkes nor a Patchen, and made no special disturbance. But they were a sorry sight, and even when they struck the ground, or rather the snow, they kept on staring. The woman smiled and said "too bad," softly smuggling a smile and a "served you right for staring."

Mrs. Lin Bartlett is spending a few days with Mrs. C. D. Bean. Many of the men on the river have come out of the woods. Mr. Campbell's camp has broken up. Mr. Anson Long's mother is visiting at his home.

Mr. Ivan Stowe has returned from his sojourn in Portland, and has decided that the country is good enough for him. We are glad that he is a young man of such good sense. If more young people would appreciate the country they would lead happier lives.

A few days ago I saw a unique race; a dog hitched to a sled, and an ordinary horse and sleigh. The dog, which was being driven by Master Elmer Bean, (his dog Rover) is very fleet, and if his little driver had not held him back he would have passed the horse or run by on the banking and tipped his little master over.

Mr. Jack Downey sent Mr. R. M. Williamson's. Master Earle Williamson is also visiting his genial grandpa. Master Harry Williamson has been visiting him, but returned home a few days ago.

Mrs. Baker and Miss Helen Baker spent a day with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eames recently.

The final meeting of the Whist Club was held at Hook and Ladder Hall Wednesday evening, March 6th. A very enjoyable evening was spent and there were many expressions of regret that this should be the last meeting. Prizes for highest scores for the season were given to Mrs. Clayton Sweett, score 80, and E. V. Noble, score 65.

"Here I have been getting along with one kerosene lamp to light my store all the evening and never thought to light the gas."

Edwin S. Poor broke camp and came out of the woods last Saturday.

Owen Smith of Mexico visited his sister, Mrs. Timothy Hastings last Sunday.

Herbert Morton has two teams out of the woods and expects to break camp this week.

Mr. Pratt of Lisbon Falls is visiting his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Pratt. Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Knight visited friends in Andover last Sunday.

Mrs. Wm. Cole is able to sit up some after her recent illness.

Binsley L. Akers, the postmaster at Andover, having sent in his resignation, a petition is being circulated for Walter M. Barnes to take his place. Mr. Barnes is a man well liked by all, and one who would be honest and conscientious in all his dealings. His petition has already over 100 signatures.

Nathan Campbell is very sick at Edwin Poor's camp on Stony Brook. Richard Adams started last Monday to take charge of his kennels in New Hampshire.

The Hook and Ladder Company held their regular quarterly meeting Monday night, March 4th. Plans were talked over for a dance to be held about the first of April.

William Cushman and Willard Newhall started last Wednesday for Sunapee Lake, N. H., where Mr. Cushman has a contract to build a very handsome log cabin for Mr. S. H. Howe of Orange, N. J. The cabin is to be 50 by 57 feet and 30 feet high. It is to be built of spruce logs and with its broad verandas and dormer windows will make a very attractive building. There are to be large open fireplaces in the living room and the chamber above. Mr. Cushman, several years ago built a log cabin for Mr. Howe's brother, and his work at that time was so satisfactory that when this building was to be erected the contract was given to him at once. About three months are to be spent in the construction and the total cost will be in the neighborhood of $7,000. The architect is A. R. Ellis of Hartford, Conn.

Two Fatal Accidents.

There were two very sad fatal accidents in Andover last week. The first was on Friday, March 8th, when Oscar P., son of Llewellyn Damon was almost instantly killed by being run over by a heavy log. The log was being drawn into Mr. Damon's yard for use as fuel, and the little fellow ran out, evidently with the idea of getting a ride; his foot slipped and he rolled directly underneath. A physician was hastily summoned but the child died before he arrived. Oscar was the second son, and was just four years old, he being killed on the anniversary of his birth. The funeral was held last Sunday at three p. m., at the Congregational church, the Rev. Mr. Hannaford conducting the exercises. Mr. and Mrs. Damon have the sympathy of the entire community.

The second accident happened last Saturday at Baker Thurston's operation at Surplus Pond, where George, son of Peter Gaudet, was killed. He had been in the woods but eight days and was working on a yard, when the pile started. He was caught and pinned down by a heavy log, and 8,000 of logs rolled over him. Several ribs were broken, puncturing the lungs in several places, and he died shortly after being removed to the camp. His father was with him and took the body home to Bethel.

SOUTH ANDOVER.

Mr. L. H. Holt, who has been working for Godwin and Smith sledding lumber, has finished and returned home.

F. E. Bartlett, who has been working with his team for E. S. Poor, is home. Mrs. Frank Gordon, who has been confined to the house for a number of weeks with the grippe, is better at this writing.

Mr. William Holman has his pulp on the river bank and nearly all sawed.

Fred and Stephen Abbott visited at O. W. Pressey's camp in Bryon, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Henry Adams of Norway, Me., is spending a few days with his sister, Mrs. H. D. Abbott.

Mr. A. A. West, who has been spending the winter with his daughter, Mrs. David Richards, has been quite sick, but is much better at this writing.

STOP WOMAN AND CONSIDER

First, that almost every operation in our hospitals, performed upon women, becomes necessary because of neglect of such symptoms as Backache, Irregularities, Displacements, Pain in the Side, Dragging Sensations, Dizziness and Sleeplessness.

Second, that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, has cured more cases of female ills than any other one medicine known. It regulates, strengthens and restores women's health and is invaluable in preparing women for child-birth and during the period of Change of Life.

Third, the great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time being published, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

For more than 30 years has been curing Female Complaints, such as Dragging Sensations, Weak Back, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation and Ulceration, and Organic Diseases, and it dissolves and expels Tumors at an early stage.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. She is the Mrs. Pinkham who has been advising sick women free of charge for more than twenty years, and before that she assisted her mother-in-law, Lydia E. Pinkham in advising. Thus she is especially well qualified to guide sick women back to health. Write today, don't wait until too late.

Mr. L. R. Hall was drawn juryman for this term, and started for Paris Monday morning.

One of Fred Grover's valuable draught horses has been seriously sick, but is improving.

C. E. Cushman has gone to Orono to attend the course of farmer's lectures given there commencing March 11th, and continuing for five days.

Mr. Mervy Hall, who has been working for Walter Robinson, has finished his labor with him.

Miss Elizabeth Cushman has been visiting her aunt, Miss Jane Gregg at Andover Corner.

NORTH NORWAY.

P. W. Judkins, who has been at his grandfather's through the winter, returned home to Upton last week.

Woodbury Russell and family have moved into Ira Moulton's place.

Tom Russell from Auburn is calling on relatives here as he is about to go to California.

Dr. Symonds, V. S., was called in haste to Albany last week to attend a sick cow.

Mrs. Rachel Witt is recovering from a severe illness.

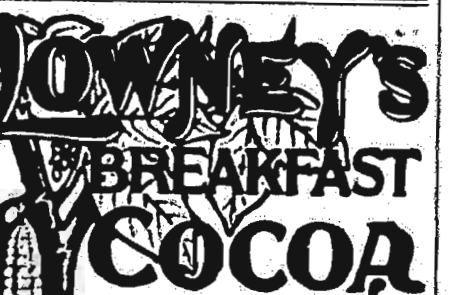

Mrs. William Hobbs is sick. Her son, Walter, came Monday from Massachusetts.

Miss Rose Noyes is visiting Mrs. H. J. Colledge of Locke's Mills, this week.

Lilly Mngoun is convalescing after the successful operation for appendicitis by Drs. Bradbury and Bartlett. A trained nurse, Miss Williams, from Portland, has given her excellent care.

Four of Ed Cox's family have been sick with the measles.

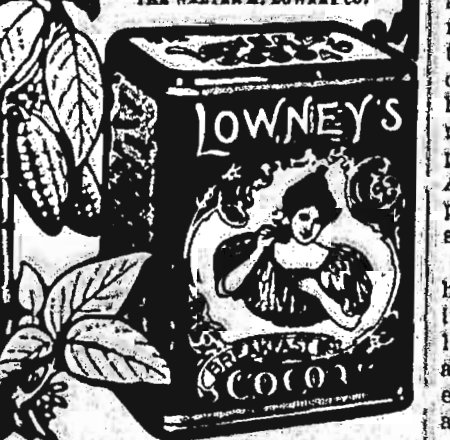

Everything went all right at town meeting, probably because 100 ladies attended for the first time. Hope they will be allowed to vote next year.

LAUGHS AT ALL BARRIERS.

Nothing Stops the Triumphant March of the Locomotive.

The completion and opening for traffic of a railroad 14,000 feet above the sea level is an event of moment in that kind of building and the one just finished leading from the Colorado and Southern line to the summit of Mount McClellan, on Gray's peak, is the second in the world to reach that altitude. The other is in Peru, leading through the passes of the Andes. Both lines carry the locomotive, with its proud and conquering plume and its piercing note of triumph, half as high as the highest peaks in the world with something to spare.

No longer need it be said that "mountains interposed makes enemies of nations" though it may have been true enough when the poet wrote it.

There are high mountain passes yet left in the world for the railway to cleave through, though it may be doubted if many of them will ever much exceed those named in allude.

The Himalayas, their peaks upholding the roof of the world, are yet to be gridironed. So are the Thian Shan ranges and in general the whole mountain system of China; our intercontinental lines, going on apace and soon to join their links, sometime will in the nature of things have some pretty high places to cover, but if they climb anywhere so loftily as the one just finished and its Peruvian predecessor, it will be time to fire off cannon and hold celebrations of exultation over the performance.

It is only the rail which has permitted the wonders of the world to be reached and we have only begun to penetrate into their walled-in domains. The train which spins over the torrent of Zambesi's fall across its high and slender steel arch reveals one of the most majestic views ever presented to mankind, but there are many more yet to be found and linked into the chain blinding the accessible together which is reticulated with meshes growing smaller and smaller all over the world. It will indeed be like brading a new world into the pattern of the old, to the enrichment of its embroidery beyond all the dreams which fancy can feign or the most glowing imagination picture.

OLD BUT ACTIVE MACHINIST.

Charles C. Aspinwall, of Concord, N. H., Still Works at His Trade.

In years of service, Charles C. Aspinwall is the oldest active machinist employed by the Boston & Maine railroad in Concord, N. H., and one of the oldest in New England. He began his service in the old Northern shops at Concord in 1853, and has since continued in the service under the management of the Boston & Lowell, and later with the Boston & Maine, in whose Concord, N. H., repair shops he is now employed as a gang boss. He was at one time master mechanic of the Concord, N. H., plant of the Boston & Maine, and previous to its requirement of the plant was practically master mechanic for a period of nearly 20 years.

He is a popular man at the shops, and though 75 years old, does a good measure of work each day. He walks to and from the railroad shops, a distance of a mile and a quarter, from his home. There is probably not a man on the system who knows every part of an engine better than Mr. Aspinwall, and few can equal him in practical knowledge and workmanship.

He is a native of Lebanon, N. H., his ancestors having been prominent in founding the town. His father lived to be 92 years old, and he has a brother living who is one year older than himself. His grandfather was at the battle of Bunker Hill.

THE HOME CIRCLE.

Pleasant Evening Reveries—A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as They Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide.

Courtesy, like charity, should begin at home. Of course one does not expect to find the same degree of ceremony practiced there as the formalities of mere acquaintanceship exact, but there certainly should not be less respect and deference paid to those who are nearer and dearer to us, than to outsiders. The man who is a gentleman in his home and among those who comprise his immediate household, can be trusted to do nothing unbecoming to a gentleman when beyond the precincts of home; but the man who is courteous itself when abroad is oftentimes the veriest boor within the confines of his own dwelling place. Such a man may pride himself on being a gentleman; but he is deficient in the elementary instincts of the true type, and is consequently somewhat akin to a counterfeit that has obtained more or less circulation among the uninitiated, but is nevertheless a spurious coin, the worthlessness of which will be discovered sooner or later.

In this enlightened twentieth century when farmers' wives have to be nurse, cook, chambermaid, washerwoman, seamstress and scrub generally, doing the work of six for the sake of being supported, we should urge mothers to train their boys carefully to be tidy and considerate of the burdens they heap upon women, rather than asking that they may be permitted looser reins in the household. These boys are to be the men and homemakers, and the habits of early years will cling to them through life. There are more wives and housekeepers staggering under loads of work than careless men occasion than there are men driven to the drams by too much nicety. Let the boys be required to shut the doors, to brush their clothing, to hang up their hats and coats, to put their shoes and rubbers in their proper places, to empty and rinse their wash basins and bath tubs when done using them, to hang towels and washings on the rack, instead of throwing them on the bed or on the floor, and clean their boots, sweep up the litter they make in whittling, nut-cracking, and all the inventions in which they are so fertile for disarranging rooms.

Good Humor a Priceless Boon.
There is but little doubt that good humor is a priceless boon. It is the oil that smooths many a rough place in life which otherwise would be very hard sliding. A man who can smile at misfortune and the mistakes he has made in life, and has the courage to correct them and work manfully to make amends, has that in him which deserves success in the end. Ill humor sulk in its tent. The sun never shines bright enough to drive away the clouds of gloom which continually surround it. It has a snap and a snarl for any who may attempt to point out a better way or offer a crumb of comfort in case of real need. Good humor rises to the occasion and meets misfortune with a smile, however much the heart may be pained, forgetting its own heart pains by lending a helping hand to those less fortunate. Good humor is a fortress, a strong tower, where the possessor may fly to gather strength for a renewed battle with difficulty and danger. Good humor is simply invincibility. A man who laughs at misfortune and sets his face bravely to do the right as God has given him to see it is worth more to the world by far than the snarler who sits down amid a broken fortune to bewail his fate and make life a wilderness of woe for every one within hailing distance.

What a Woman Can Do.
She can come to a decision without the slightest trouble of reasoning on it; and to some men can do that. Six of them can talk at once and get along first rate, and no two men can do that. She can safely stick fifty pins in her dress while he is getting one under his thumbnail. She is as cool as a cucumber in half a dozen tight dresses and skirts, while a man will fret and fume and growl in our loose shirt.

She can talk sweet as peaches and dream to the woman she hates, while two men would be punching each other's head before they had exchanged ten words. She can appreciate a kiss from her husband seventy-five years after the marriage ceremony is performed. She can go to church and afterwards tell you what every woman looked on, and in some rare instances can give you some faint idea what the text was. She can walk half the night with a colicky baby in her arms without once expressing the desire of murdering the infant. She can—but what's the use? A woman can do anything or everything and do it well. She can do more in a minute than a man can do in an hour and do it better. She can drive a man crazy for twenty-four hours and then bring him to a paradise in two seconds by simply tickling him under the chin, and there does not live that mortal son of Adam's misery who can do it.

Girls Self-supporting.
So greatly is this world changing that it is to be recognized more and more that girls as well as boys may and should be self-supporting. The girl who sits around idle all the busy day, reads a few French novels, does a little fancy work, gossips idly with others who have nothing in particular to do, tangles and untangles silks and worsteds ad infinitum, and then waits for some silly young man (for no young man of good, common sense would want such a girl for his wife) to come along and take her off her own hands, has gone out of fashion.

The girl of the twentieth century, if she would be popular, must have a business as well as a boy—a vocation of some kind. That it is useful and needful to all is true. "What," says some fair, sweet-faced girl, "surely I don't need it, I am only a child. My father is rich. In our home of wealth there is nothing lacking of comfort and happiness, of beauty and grandeur." Ah, yes! but riches often take to themselves wing, and fly away, and a turn of fortune's wheel hurls wealthy people down to poverty every day. Your hope paints your future in azure and gold. God grant that your dreams may be realized, but there is so great a danger that they may fall that it is wise to prepare for a failure; and if in your pathway the flowers burn brightly and over your head shines the sun, his over-smiling face from the clear blue sky, and no dark clouds overgather o'er you, you will enjoy them more for having the unflinching knowledge that if shipwreck does come you will have the life boat of a thorough knowledge to some useful line of work. Let us be true to ourselves, study our own interests, and aim to be true women, who live for some noble cause. Better learn to do one thing perfectly than a hundred imperfectly.

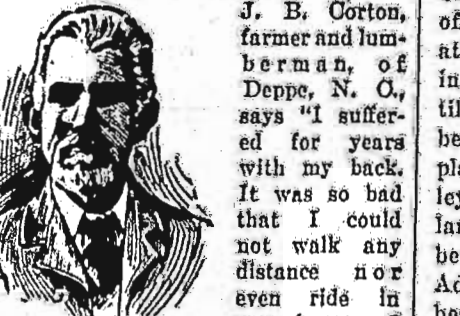

And in all our thoughts for the future aspiring and doing let us remember that to God we owe all our success gained, that to him we owe our warmest love, and our brightest, most useful days.

"In 1897 I had a stomach disease. Some physicians said Dyspepsia, some Consumption. One said I would not live until Spring. For four years I existed on boiled milk, soda biscuits, and doctor's prescriptions. I could not digest anything I ate; then I picked up one of your Almanacs and it happened to be my life-saver. I bought a fifty-cent bottle of KODOL and the benefit I received from that little all the gold in Georgia could not buy. In two months I went back to my work, as a machinist, and in three months I was well and hearty. May you live long and prosper."—C. N. Cornell, Rolling, Ga., 1906. The above is only a sample of the great good that is daily done everywhere by Kodol for Dyspepsia. It is sold here by Bowers & Vallee Co.

Couldn't Lift Ten Pounds.

Doan's Kidney Pills Brought Strength and Health to the Sufferer, Enabling Him to Feel Twenty-Five Years Younger.

Sick kidneys cause a weak, lame or aching back, and a weak back makes a weak man. Can't be well and strong until the kidneys are cured. Treat them with Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's the testimony of one man cured.

J. B. Corton, farmer and lumberman, of Depue, N. O., says "I suffered for years with my back. It was so bad that I could not walk any distance nor even ride in easy buggy. I do not believe I could have raised ten pounds of weight from the ground, the pain was so severe. This was my condition when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They quickly relieved me and now I am never troubled as I was. My back is strong and I can walk or ride a long distance and feel just as strong as I did twenty-five years ago. I think so much of Doan's Kidney Pills that I have given a supply of the remedy to some of my neighbors and they have also found good results. If you can sift anything from this rambling note that will be of any service to you, or to any one suffering from kidney trouble, you are at liberty to do so."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Corton will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address: Foster-McMullen Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all dealers; price, fifty cents per box.

ECHOES FROM THE STATE HOUSE

As Recorded By Our Special Representative.

Augusta, Me., March 12. (Special)—The Senate has killed the bill to give the Union Water Power Co. of Lewiston the right to dredge the outlets of the Rangeley lakes and draw off more water. It was settled on last Thursday, by the vote of 16 to 13, after a long debate. The next morning, the House concurred in the action of the Senate, and the matter was deferred at least two years. Senator Hastings has led the fight against that bill, and has kept steadily at work from the first day that he read it. He made a speech against the measure, in the debate on it which was the subject of many compliments. Other speakers in favor of killing the bill were Senators Staples of Knox county, Rice of Franklin county, and Sewall of Sagadahoc county. The speakers in favor of the bill were Senators Mills of Hancock county and Philoon of Androscoggin county.

Senator Hastings said in the course of his speech: "It simmers down to one and the same proposition, the drawing down of Mooseheadmaguntic and Richardson Lakes some six or more feet below the present low water level without, let or hindrance from December 1st to April 1st; the opening of the door of the last asset of the people, an asset growing and increasing in value year by year and destined to be in the future the most wonderful lake and inland resort on the face of the earth, to a private corporation, animated only by a desire for more dividends, a corporation without soul asking this mighty concession from this legislature, that they may have a little more water for a week or two, a few weeks, now and then a year. In our whole state there is nothing dearer to the hearts of the people than these lakes, given to us in abundance by the Almighty to be held inviolate through the ages. Our beautiful rivers now contaminated and poisoned were dear to the people, our boundless and magnificent forests now beyond our reach, were our pride, but it has remained for the corporations to touch the tenderest chord of our heartstrings by this proposition of levying upon our lakes."

"Oh, but they say, 'we will do no harm, we will not mar the scenic beauty; we will not destroy the fish in the lakes.' But gentlemen, that is conjecture only, and this is but the first step. In this bill they are merely getting a foothold. What has been our experience this winter? Is it not true that three-fourths of our time has been spent on these corporation matters? Is it not true that they get what they can the first time and then in two years, or when conditions are more favorable, they come back for more? Once given the key that unlocks the Rangeleys and the other corporations will come trooping in for the same treatment. After the beautiful Rangeleys, then will come the great Moosehead."

"The manufacturing interests of the state are great. They deserve well at our hands. The private corporations contribute wonderfully to the prosperity of the people; they deserve well at our hands. The summer interests, as yet in their infancy, are boundless in their possibilities. Within the past few years the tide of summer travel has turned rapidly here. The nerve-racked, the brain-worn and the pleasure-seekers of the nation have sought rest, recreation and renewed health and vigor in the region of our beautiful lakes, till in summer months our state has become the playground, the resting place of the nation. These Rangeley lakes now surpass all other inland lake resorts, and bid fair to become as famous as those of the Adirondacks, excelling as they do in beauty of surroundings the far famous Trossacks and the Lakes of Killarney."

"These business corporations, these summer interests, each have their special right. The one should not be allowed to encroach upon or jeopardize the other."

"Now, whether the granting of this bill would destroy the scenic beauty of our lakes, and I do not doubt that it would; whether the granting of the bill will cause the destruction of the fish in the lakes, and the authorities on fish culture say that it would, whether the granting of this bill will damage and injure and possibly wipe out all individual interests about these lakes, I do not propose to discuss. No one knows; no one can know. The lakes may fill up, if drawn down; they may not. One thing, however, is certain, is sure. If we do not grant this bill, if we do not open this door, then we may be sure, then we may know that all interests are safe. We must take no chances. "If the manufacturing industries are suffering, let the Union Water Power Company develop and exhaust the storage resources of the Magalloway river, even though it costs a hundred or two hundred thousand dollars, let them construct the dam at the Pond-in-the-River and thus save and conserve the waters of the Richardson lakes to what extent they can, and they will have no cause to complain of short water for years to come."

"To my county and the county of Franklin, in which these lakes are situated, this is the most momentous and far-reaching proposition that has come before the legislature in the history of the state. To the whole state it is a proposition that overshadows and obscures all others presented at this legislature. It is a step which, if taken, may cost us our property; it is a step which we can never retrace. "This is a contest on one side of which are the private interests with their force of trained and skilled lobbyists, on the other side the plain people, strong in the justice of their cause."

"We are here sitting in judgment under our oaths, representing no one interest, no corporations; but the people of the state. Let us, gentlemen, bring to bear upon the solution of this question, each his own best conscience and all will be well and will be content."

The matter of chartering a company to build the Portland & Rumford Falls Railway extension from Poland to Portland, is laid on the table in the railroad committee. The Maine Central People objected to the proposed new draft presented by George D. Bisbee, and the opposing parties agreed to take the time to talk it over, if the committee would consent, and the committee did consent.

The governor has nominated: Margaret A. Baker of Norway to be authorized to administer oaths, acknowledge deeds, and solemnize marriages. John S. Harlow of Dixfield for notary public.

The bill to abolish Fast Day and substitute Patriots' Day, April 19, has passed to be enacted. As the governor's message recommended some such action, it is taken for granted that he will sign this bill.

The bill to provide an additional term of supreme court for Oxford county has passed to be enacted. The term is to be held at Rumford Falls in May. The grand jury will not be summoned unless special order is given by the presiding justice. Criminal business will not be transacted except by similar orders.

The bill to incorporate the Magalloway Improvement Co. has passed to be engrossed.

The bill to regulate fishing on the two west Richardson ponds, the two east Richardson ponds, and the two Beaver ponds has passed to be engrossed.

The bill to set off the estate of Mary E. Warren from Brownfield and annex it to Denmark has passed to be enacted. The bill limits the change to such of the estate as is adjacent to the town of Denmark.

The death of Charles T. Randall of Montville and resignation of Varney A. Putnam of Danforth has reduced the membership of the House of Representatives to 149, the lowest it has been in many years. Mr. Putnam resigned because the raise of Danforth postoffice to the Presidential class renders him ineligible, he being postmaster.

The general bridge bill was killed in the Senate.

The House has voted that the University of Maine should receive $40,000 for a new central heating, light, and power plant, $50,000 for a new agricultural building, and $65,000 a year for two years for maintenance. The House voted down the propositions at restriction on the University courses.

The liquor agency investigation has probably been permanently tabled in the Senate. The state liquor agent underwent an operation for appendicitis, March 6th. Senator Hastings offered his bill to reduce profit on agency liquors as a partial remedy for alleged abuses of the system.

The act to exempt blind persons from poll tax has passed to be enacted. The House killed the bill to authorize reprinting some of the Maine law reports. The members concluded that the state ought to get something for the use of the copyright. The Senate killed the bill to permit dredging the outlets of the Rangeley lakes.

The governor has signed the following:

Appropriation for enlargement and completion of the Rangeley Lakes fish feeding station.

Appropriation for screening outlet of Lake Anasagunticook in Canton.

Act to legalize doing of Middle Intervale Telephone Co.

Act to regulate fishing in Sunday river and tributaries.

Fryeburg Horse Railroad extension bill.

Act to regulate fishing in B pond in Upton.

Appropriation of money for buying bonds for clerks in office of state treasurer.

Appropriation for Maine Woman's Christian Temperance Union department of homes for homeless children.

Appropriation for a prize to be given to the person devising a practical scheme for the utilization of tidal power.

Bill to have all state printing put through the hands of the auditor of state printing.

Bill to authorize the experiment station at Orono to receive larger sums from the United States government.

Bill to provide greater protection against cruelty to children.

Bill to establish a state school for the feeble minded.

Bill to permit the receiving of cash bail in criminal cases.

Bill to forbid child labor in factories other than fish packeries.

The committee reported that the bill to charter Paris Trust Co. at South Paris ought to pass. There had been talk that Norway interests would oppose the granting of this charter, but nobody appeared in opposition at the hearing before the committee on banks and banking.

The committee reported against the bills to change methods of probate court inventories.

The committee reported against the bill to require local school superintendents to be elected by the voters.

The committee on public buildings and grounds was evenly divided on removal of the capital to Portland. Senators Curtis and Clarke, and Representatives Pike, Snow and Haskell signed a report favoring removal. Senator Barrows, and Representatives Allen, Danforth, Lynch and Farrar reported legislation inexpedient.

The report of the committee on appropriations against money for the Jamestown exposition has been recommended to the committee.

The committee reported against the bill to authorize the railroad commissioners to revive defunct charters.

The committee reported against the bill for the state to buy some land to be settled according to the state homestead law.

The committee reported favorably on the bill to charter a railroad from Van Buren via Fort Kent to St. Francis. The same report was given on the bill to charter Sebasticook & Moosehead extensions from Pittsfield to Albion and from Harmony to Ellsworthville.

The committee reported that the bill to establish a new method of appointing appraisers of estates of deceased persons ought not to pass. A similar report was given on a similar bill relating to appraisers of estates of wards.

The committee reported that the bill to change sheriffs' transportation fees ought not to pass.

The committee reported against the bill to increase the penalty for drunkenness.

The committee reported that the bill to let billiard rooms and bowling alleys be kept open till midnight instead of eleven o'clock ought not to pass.

The committee reported against the bill to change the general clam law.

The committee reported in favor of the bill to give better protection to alewives, shad, and salmon in Maine rivers.

The committee reported against the bill to regulate optometry.

The committee reported against the bill to establish a people's advisory referendum on the United States senatorship.

The committee reported against the bills to make Maine negotiable instruments, receipts and invoices identical with those of some other states.

The committee reported against the bill to prohibit non residents soliciting insurance in Maine.

The committee reported that legislation to regulate traveling opticians is inexpedient.

The committee reported on the bill to require steamboats to keep shore lists of passengers that legislation is inexpedient.

The committee reported in favor of the bill to permit towns to establish public wharves.

HEALING THE SICK.

So-Called Hopeless Cases Cured by Electricity Magnetism.

The evidence that Prof. Caldwell has presented to the public for the past few months is of such a character as not only to convince the most incredulous of his skill in the treatment of disease, but also satisfies and inspires faith, because the patients themselves (your friends and neighbors) who have been rescued by him from a condition of desperation and hopelessness, have described their symptoms and testified to the thoroughness and reliability of their cures. Very many have come without hope (in many instances to satisfy the desire of their friends) and have been cured.

He will see and treat nobody but those who have been a long time afflicted, and these people seem never to tire of telling how they went to him in the very last stage of disease and how quickly they were restored to health and of how they had been sick for years and nobody understood their difficulty.

Oxford's most widely known minister speaks to his friends and tells of the benefit derived from this treatment. It gives me pleasure to state that the treatment which I received from the electrical machines as operated by Prof. Caldwell was very beneficial in relieving pain and inducing sleep.

Rev. G. B. Hannaford.
Prof. Caldwell's method of treating disease by electricity impresses me as very effective.

Rev. George A. Martin.
Rumford Falls, Feb. 13, '07.
I can testify from experience that the Electro-Magnetic treatment gives a wonderful relief in neuralgia and rheumatism. I have the utmost confidence in recommending it.

E. W. Webber,
Pastor Universalist Church.
I have taken Prof. Caldwell's treatment for rheumatism of the back and have had no return of the trouble.

Horace Holman, Dixfield.
Rumford Falls, Mar. 5, '07.
I have suffered many years with severe headache, could not go out for an evening or enjoy company without having headache next day. Since taking Prof. Caldwell's treatment have been free from this trouble and can go to entertainments without feeling ill next day, and I am better in other ways.

Mrs. C. C. Demeritt.
HIS CURES PERMANENT.
Greenfield, Mass., May 3, '06.

Prof. Caldwell:
Dear Sir:—I have been troubled for several years with rheumatism in the neck and numbness in my hands and feet and have had a lame shoulder for many years which has been very painful times. But since taking your treatment the pain and lameness are entirely gone. I have also been troubled with indigestion but since taking the electric treatment, my stomach is very much better. I hope this may induce you, who are suffering from rheumatism, to try your electrical treatment, as I feel sure they will be cured as fast as I have been.

Mrs. J. L. Taylor.
Miss Hattie Hawley of Greenfield also given up as incurable and was cured by Prof. Caldwell's treatment, as were many others.
I consider Prof. Caldwell an expert whose equal is hard to find.
L. G. Verrill, M. D.,
Rochester, N. H.
Rumford Falls, Feb. 26, '07.
I have had a very severe case of rheumatism in my back and legs and feel a great deal with it night and more than I find words to describe.

I heard of Prof. Caldwell's treatment and decided to try it but with little faith for I had tried so many times before but I placed myself under his treatment and now I am cured, no more pain and lameness and feel as well as I ever did.

Some of my friends are now taking treatment and they are also gaining fast. If you have a chronic case go quickly to Prof. Caldwell. He cured as I was cured.

Thos. Anderson, Jr.,
Ridgelyville, Me.
Prof. Caldwell can show you scores of testimonials of patients who were cured by him more than six years ago who have never had a return of trouble in any way. Ask some of the cured patients here in Rumford and be convinced.

His office is crowded from early until late and those going in are encouraged and cheered by those passing out of his successful treatment.

Go to him and if he accepts your case you will be cured under his treatment at a free consultation.

Due to the great demand for his treatment he has decided to make a special offer for one week, that all may secure the great relief of health.

OFFER UNTIL MAR. 21.
All who apply Mar. 21, will receive one office treatment, and one treatment for one month for $3.00, sufficient for $10.00, sufficient for a severe case.

CORPORATION MEETING.

The Bethel village corporation held its annual meeting at the Corporation building Monday night. There was very little up for consideration aside from the ordinary routine business and hence very little to cause unusual interest or excitement.

It might be said, however, that the remuneration and honor which goes with the office of collector caused considerable competition over this office and four votes had to be taken before the successful competitor was named.

Almost everyone seemed to be fishing for the office but the only real active contestants were H. H. Bean, A. Van Den Kerkhoven and T. B. Goodwin. These three townsmen did not get very greatly excited in the race themselves but excitement ran wild among their friends and loyal supporters. Mr. Bean carried off the honor.

The following officers were elected: Moderator, E. E. Hanscom; Clerk, F. E. Hanscom; Clerk pro-tem, F. B. Merrill; Assessors, J. U. Purington, D. S. Hastings, W. O. Straw; Treasurer, E. C. Rowe; Collector, H. H. Bean.

Appropriations: Street lighting, $400; Fire department, $400; Hydrants, $800; Sinking fund, fire department, $100; Miscellaneous expenses, $200; Care of Common, $50; Police duty, $50; Contingent fund for injured firemen, $100; Rate for collection, 15 mills.

CANTON HAPPENINGS.

As Observed and Told By The Citizen Reporter.

The Willing Workers will hold an entertainment and fair at Gilbert Hall Wednesday afternoon and evening, March 20th. A supper will be served from 5:30 to 7 o'clock. There will be an entertainment in the evening for which a small admission fee will be charged. A large number of useful and beautiful articles will be on sale at this fair, the proceeds of which will be used to help defray the expenses of the repairs on the Universalist church. A beautiful sofa pillow may be seen in the store of Miss
A. C. Bicknell which will be given to the one guessing the nearest to the number of beans in a bottle.

In the mention of the floral offerings at the funeral services of Mr. Charles

STATE CAPITAL TO PORTLAND.

Change of sentiment in Portland's favor since her proposition became known. Portland practically gives the State a Capitol building if the people so vote.

Now that the people throughout the State are beginning to hear from Portland's side of the case, the misunderstanding due to the misleading statements of those who have assumed to tell her story for her, are being brushed aside.

Reader, who are your Informants?

What have they told you?

Have they told you that the Governor in his message pointed out that "something must be done at once" to the old State House?

Have they told you that $500,000 must be expended by the State upon either the old State House or upon one somewhere else?

Have they told you that the bill before the Senate favoring the removal of the Capital LIMITS the total expense of the new Capital at Portland to $500,000?

Have they told you that Portland offers as a gift to the State more than the old State House ever cost the State?

Have they told you that the old State House will not be lost to the State, but can be immediately utilized for some other purpose?

Have they told you that the records of the State, of priceless value, are menaced by the chances of fire, that their loss could not be replaced by money?

Have they told you that a modern fireproof building is the only safeguard for and solution of the problem of how to protect the records?

Have they told you that your taxes will not be raised one penny?

If they have not, they should, for all these points, with others, are embodied in the bill before the Senate!

The simple truth of the whole matter is that Portland will build for the State a magnificent fireproof capitol building within her confines of which every citizen of Maine will be proud without increase of taxes, provided that the people vote at a special election that the seat of government for the State of Maine be changed to Portland.

This is a matter of Business and not of Sentiment.

Can the Legislature afford or the People afford to ignore Portland's offer or fail to grasp the opportunity?

Cut on this line here.

To Hon. _____
Representative from _____ County,
State House, Augusta, Maine.

Dear Sir:—

Believing that the question of the removal of the seat of government from Augusta to Portland should be submitted to the people, I most earnestly request that you will use your vote to secure a referendum to the people on this vitally important matter and will use your influence with any other member that you can.

Sincerely yours,

REMOVAL OF STATE CAPITAL.

One of the most important questions that will come up before the present legislature will be the matter as to whether or not the question of referring to the people the removal of the seat of government from Augusta to Portland shall be voted yes or no. Only one side of this question so far has been heard by the people.

The Portland side of the question is this: The city of Portland offers to give $750,000 and a site towards the building of the new Capitol, which when built shall not cost more than $1,500,000.

If Portland stands by its offer, as it undoubtedly will, it means that the tax to the state shall be only $125,000 annually for four years, which would mean that the State tax would not in reality be increased in the slightest.

It is said on good authority that it will cost at least $500,000 to fix over the present State House so that it will be anywhere near adequate to take care of the business which it is now necessary to carry on in our growing state. If this sum is expended in improvements to the old building instead of on a new Capitol the state will not only have an old building, which can never be made over into a modern one, but will have a building that will stand as a positive menace to the state departments in that the old State House is not fireproof and in case of fire priceless records covering years and years of the state's life would be lost. No insurance policy could cover such damage as might result from a fire in the old State House.

Portland not only comes forward with a splendid offer as to the construction of a new building for the state, but also offers attractions and facilities for economical administration of the state's affairs.

At the time the capital was moved to Augusta, 75 years ago, it was not because Augusta was the geographical center of the state, but because it was then one of the centers of trade.

Today the center of the state is its center of transportation, where all the railroads of the state center—the city of Portland, the state metropolis.

Owing to its railroad facilities Portland can be reached more easily from any part of the state than any other city. It has splendid hotel accommodations, theatres, etc., and is able to provide much more in the way of comfort and convenience to its visiting legislators than can any other city in the state.

The capital located at Portland would give the legislators from up state an opportunity to get broader views on bills relating to sea shore and fishery questions than could possibly be had if they never visited the sea coast.

In this regard it might be said that the whole United States is better served by having its capital at Washington than if it were located at some interior town in the geographical center of the country.

Portland does not ask the legislature to remove the capital. It asks only that the people of this state shall be allowed to vote on the matter.

It seems to be the only broad, liberal and intelligent view to take of the question to give the people of this state the right by referendum to vote as to whether or not they will remove the seat of government from its present location to the city of Portland.

EFFECT OF THE FOOD LAW.

Driving Many Worthless Catarrh Medicines Out of Existence.

The Pure Food and Drug Law, which went into effect the first of January, has already shown the good that will follow its enforcement.

Many worthless remedies, that have been advertised for the cure of catarrh, a disease that is universally prevalent, have been driven out of existence by the Pure Food Law.

The effect of this is to increase the sale of remedies that are valuable and that fulfill the provisions of the law. Hyomei, for example, is meeting with a larger sale than ever before, and The Cote Pharmacy, A. H. Williamson, Prop., Rumford Falls, and Nathan Reynolds of Canton, are still selling it under a guarantee that it will cure catarrh or the money will be refunded. Hyomei is a scientific treatment that is recommended by the best physicians. It cures catarrh without stomach dosing, through inhaling medications that go right to the affected spots.

By breathing Hyomei three or four times daily through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, its medicated, healing air penetrates to the most remote parts of the nose, throat and lungs, searches out and kills all catarrhal germs, and soothes and heals any irritation in the mucous membrane.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs $1.00, extra bottles if needed, 50c, and is sold by The Cote Pharmacy, A. H. Williamson, Prop., Rumford Falls, and Nathan Reynolds of Canton under the guarantee that it will cure or cost nothing.

COMMUNICATION.

Mr. Editor: I notice in a review of the remarks made by the Indian lecturer that you are inclined to accept the high estimate that he placed upon his own race. It does seem true that he has made a success in life, and if all or any considerable number of Indians were of his character, I could accept the claim that the red race is the equal of the white race, but he must be an exceptional exception to the average Indian. It is evidently true that the real Indian has neither genius for organization or business, and is disinclined to labor.

The statement made in your article that the Indian tribes had developed neither a commerce nor a medium of exchange, proves that they were not far advanced in civilized customs.

It is almost beyond understanding that a race of men who had not established trade should be spoken of as possessing the elements of civilization. You speak of civilization of savagery. I do not believe there was any civilization among the Indians when white men came to America, and I would like to have you or Dr. Eastman explain how civilization existed among a people who hardly knew enough to clothe themselves, and had not got beyond the bow and arrow state of human developments.

No people can be truly civilized without a system of religion, government and trade.
